VINCENNES BRIDE WAS SELF-SLAIN

Mysterious Death of Mrs. Jennie Lee Culbertson Due to Her Own Hand.

THREATENING LETTERS WRITTEN BY HERSELF

Woman First Accused of Crime, Alleged Rival of Victim, Lives in Chicago.

VINCENNES, Ind., March 26.-Mrs. Jessic Lee Overton Culbertson, the young woman of mystery, sad-hearted though a bride of three months, was not murdered. She was self slain.

Of this there is no doubt, and her husband and relatives acknowledged today that their suspicions that she was killed at the instigation of another woman for jealous revenge were unfounded. The body of a miniature skeleton which had been attached to the skull found by the side of Mrs. Culbertson when she was discovered gagged in the shed near her home last Wednesday, after swallowing carbolic acid, was picked up late today near the seene of the tragedy. It lay concealed beneath a pile of debris, where the disheartened girl had placed it after she removed the head and attached it to the threatening letter which she thought would lead the authorities to believe she was murdered for revenge.

Wrote Letters Herself.

Positive proof that Mrs. Culbertson wrote the anonymous threatening letters to herself has been established.

A letter she wrote to her husband at Bridgeport. Ill., is written on stationery similar to that upon which was penned an anonymous note.

Culbertson, while accepting the suicide theory, said:

cide theory, said:
"I wish Mrs. Longwell, in Chicago, would write an alibi so that I would be satisfied that she has been cleared be satisfied that she has been cleared of suspicion."

It was Mrs. Etta Longwell, formerly of Vincennes, whom the Culbertsons and Joshua Brazelton, stepfather of the young husband, had been led to suspect sought to injure Mrs. Culbertson.

"Her name should be cleared by all means," said Culbertson. "I cannot understand why Jessie should kill herself. She was strange, though now that all this has happened I am able to recall many things. She never would tell me about her past, except in a general way. She said her father and mother were dead. I have heard that she formerly lived in Waco, Tex., and in Dublin, Tex., where she is said to have a brother. I have tried to communicate with relatives, but cannot get any word from them."

MRS. LONGWELL DENIES EVEN KNOWING VICTIM

CHICAGO. March 26.—Mrs. Ella Longwell, who lives at 708 West Madison street, who admits she is the woman referred to in newspaper stories in connection with the death of Mrs. Russell Culbertson of Vincennes, Ind., declared today that she had nothing to do with the death of the woman, and denied that she even knew the wife of Russell Culbertson. oll Culbertson.

VARIOUS SCHEMES OF TARIFF REGULATION

Question of Relations With Other Nations Point That Sticks Senate Committee.

WASHINGTON, March 26,-Various ystems of regulating the tariff interourse of the United States with other nations so as to give to the executive a margin in the application of rates as between friendly and unfriendly countries, are being considered by the senate committee on finance.

The minimum and maximum princi-ple contained in the Payne bill is un-satisfactory to many senate leaders, and The minimum and maximum princisatisfactory to many senate leaders, and a reversal of this principle likewise would not be received with favor.

Just what are the objections raised gainst the principle of the Payne bill, which makes the rates established the minimum and permits the executive to apply a 20 per cent retaliatory increase to any nation which fails to give to the United States the advantage of her most favored nation clause, has not been made clear. All the proceedings thus far by the senate committee, however, make it evident that the provisions of the Payne bill respecting this feature are likely to be disapproved.

Problem Is Complicated.

Senator Aldrich has given this ques-tion a great deal of thought, and several senators are looking to him to sugeral senators are looking to aim to suggest some means of applying the tariff rates to the different countries. From some sources there has come a demand for a reversal of the Payne system so as to make the established rates the as to make the established factor of 20 per cent to the nations giving us the greatest advantages, but opposition to this method developed on the ground that such a plan would upset the estimates of revenues to be derived from the new tariff.
